

Sunday Morning, 11/11/12, Habakkuk 1-2

Colonial Baptist Church, Virginia Beach

Dr. Tim Jordan

In times like ours, we need to engage our God...like Habakkuk did!

(Chapters 1-2)

So, let's listen and learn as we listen in on the "private conversations" between the prophet and his God.

THE FIRST CONVERSATION, 1:1-11.

Habakkuk starts by saying..., 1-4.

He was confident in his personal relationship to God.

He was candid in his personal conversations with God.

Then God says..., 5-11.

He graciously engaged His prophet, 5.

He revealed His grand plan to His Prophet, 5-11.

NOW LISTEN IN ON THEIR SECOND CONVERSATION, 1:12-2:1.

Habakkuk says...

"God, I am holding on to what I know to be true about you", vs.12.

"God, I am still wrestling with your answer", 13-17.

"God, I am going to respectfully wait for you to tell me more", 2:1.

Then God says..., 2:2-20.

"My answer is"...(2:2-4)

"Let Me explain" (5-20)

Conclusions...

Sunday Evening, 11/11/12, Habakkuk 3

Colonial Baptist Church, Virginia Beach

Dr. Tim Jordan

In times like ours we need to choose to trust of God, like Habakkuk did.

(Chapter 3)

At this point the question, "What about us?" becomes more of a "What about me?" or even more of an "As for me..." from the prophet. His final response to his God takes the form of a prayer-song, a psalm. Listen to the words of his song!

His psalm begins with a request, his petition, vs. 2.

It is stunningly candid.

It is stunningly courageous. (two requests)

It continues with a vision, his focus, vs. 3-16.

He remembers the awesome working of God in the past.

He anticipates the awesome working of God in the present.

He is counting on the awesome working of God in the future.

It ends with his personal conclusion, his confidence, vs. 17-19.

"Though..."

"Yet..."

Well, now we know what "As for me..." is for the prophet.
How about "As for you?"

Sunday Morning, 11/11/12, Habakkuk 1-2

Colonial Baptist Church, Virginia Beach

Dr. Tim Jordan

In times like ours, we need to engage our God...like Habakkuk did!

(Chapters 1-2)

So, let's listen and learn as we listen in on the "private conversations" between the prophet and his God.

THE FIRST CONVERSATION, 1:1-11.

Habakkuk starts by saying..., 1-4.

He was confident in his personal relationship to God.

He was candid in his personal conversations with God.

Then God says..., 5-11.

He graciously engaged His prophet, 5.

He revealed His grand plan to His Prophet, 5-11.

NOW LISTEN IN ON THEIR SECOND CONVERSATION, 1:12-2:1.

Habakkuk says...

"God, I am holding on to what I know to be true about you", vs.12.

"God, I am still wrestling with your answer", 13-17.

"God, I am going to respectfully wait for you to tell me more", 2:1.

Then God says..., 2:2-20.

"My answer is"...(2:2-4)

"Let Me explain" (5-20)

Conclusions...

Sunday Evening, 11/11/12, Habakkuk 3

Colonial Baptist Church, Virginia Beach

Dr. Tim Jordan

In times like ours we need to choose to trust of God, like Habakkuk did.

(Chapter 3)

At this point the question, "What about us?" becomes more of a "What about me?" or even more of an "As for me..." from the prophet. His final response to his God takes the form of a prayer-song, a psalm. Listen to the words of his song!

His psalm begins with a request, his petition, vs. 2.

It is stunningly candid.

It is stunningly courageous. (two requests)

It continues with a vision, his focus, vs. 3-16.

He remembers the awesome working of God in the past.

He anticipates the awesome working of God in the present.

He is counting on the awesome working of God in the future.

It ends with his personal conclusion, his confidence, vs. 17-19.

"Though..."

"Yet..."

Well, now we know what "As for me..." is for the prophet.
How about "As for you?"